POST-SECONDARY COLLEGE & TRANSITION PROGRAM EDUCATOR'S BRIEFING WORKSHOP

The Career & Community Studies Program at The College of New Jersey is pleased to announce its 4th annual Educator's Briefing Workshop on, Thursday, January 31, 2019.

As result of the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) reauthorization in 2008 a new type of higher education program for students with intellectual disabilities titled: Comprehensive Transition Programs or CTPs were established. Institutions of Higher Education may submit an application to the US Department of Education to become a CTP. CCS@TCNJ is one of the first colleges in the Nation to be awarded the status as a CTP.

This workshop is intended to provide an overview of the current National Trends in Post-Secondary Inclusive College & Transition Programs; Student Based Futures Planning for Youth with Intellectual Disabilities and an Overview of the CCS@TCNJ Program.

Guest Speaker: Dr. Carole Gothelf, Director of Individualized Supports, AHRC, New York.
"Opportunities for an Inclusive College Education for Students with Intellectual Disabilities: Your Dreams. Our Purpose. Your Journey".

As a recognized CTP, a college program can accept students that are currently completing their post-secondary special education programs through their local school district. Currently, there are approximately 275 Higher Education Programs across the United States and 61 CTPs in 24 States.

This workshop focuses on school personnel to include teachers, transition coordinators, child study team members, guidance counselors, and administrators.

We look forward to having you/your colleagues join us on Thursday, January 31st from 1:00 – 3:30 pm at The College of New Jersey.
